

UNIVERSITY ROUNDTABLE – FALL 2015

The Fall 2015 University Roundtable Series will open with Vice Chancellor Darrell Bazzell providing his take on the latest biennial budget, followed by an exploration of the intersection of music and Progressivism at the turn of the twentieth century. The fall series will conclude with an introduction to the concepts behind—and the art of—Feng Shui.

October 14 – 2015-17 Biennial Budget: What's New and What's Next

Darrell Bazzell, Vice Chancellor for Finance and Administration, will discuss the impacts of the state's 2015-17 biennial budget on the University of Wisconsin-Madison. He will describe the actions the University is taking to implement budget provisions and to address ongoing fiscal challenges.

Location: Union South – Varsity Hall

November 11 – Offensive, Objectionable and Mad

What issues and concerns faced University administrators, faculty, and staff about student life at the beginning of the last century? Drawn from her ongoing research on pre-World War I ragtime dance music, Professor Susan Cook, Director of the School of Music, explores the contexts and ramifications of "objectionable" music, "offensive" dancing, and Progressivism in Madison, on campus and off.

December 9 – Harmony: A Journey through Feng Shui

This presentation will demonstrate School of Human Ecology Professor Wei Dong's journey of integrating traditional Chinese Feng Shui concepts combined with ideas from Western culture into his creative works, from initial processing to finished products. In addition to introducing basic concepts and applications of traditional Feng Shui, he will also discuss the creative process that lies behind his contemporary Chinese paintings and his multisensory and experiential exhibitions.
